TTAB Finds MEAT CANDY to be Too Sweet

By Shana L. Olson & Monica Riva Talley

In a recent (non-precedential) decision, the TTAB refused to register the mark MEAT CANDY as being merely descriptive of Applicant's restaurant services. To anyone who is not a meat connoisseur, a 2(e)(1) refusal seems to be a bit of a stretch – sure, MEAT is descriptive of a restaurant selling meat, but the entire mark MEAT CANDY?

gTLD Sunrise Periods Now Open

As first reported in our December 2013 newsletter, the first new generic top-level domains (gTLDs, the group of letters after the "dot" in a domain name) have launched their "Sunrise" registration periods. Please contact us or see our December 2013 newsletter for information as to what the Sunrise Period is, and how to become eligible to register a domain name under one of the new gTLDs during this period.
